

Supply chain

Build your supply chain resiliency in 3 days

Get it done

This service gives you all the basics of building resiliency into your company's supply chain. For three days, members of our seasoned consulting team come onsite to facilitate all-day, intensive workshops. The workshops give you the tools to roll out your program at all levels of the business.

Here is what you get.

- Three days of intensive workshops focused on:
- Supply chain resilience
- Understanding your risk environment
- Monitoring threats to key supply chain business partners
- Developing strategies for high risk areas
- Exercising and validating supply chain plans
- All presentations and scripts, templates, and activity materials

Results

A foundation for supply chain resiliency, standardized plans and tools for your team, and a consistent approach for responding to supply chain disruptions.

All materials and presentations used in these workshops have been standardized for all engagements and industries. Customization is available for an additional cost.
